Thank you for coming out today in support of immigrants rights. Demonstrations and rallies are an important first step, but they are only a first step.

Learn who your elected officials are -- at the federal, state, and local levels. Follow what they do, and watch how they vote.

Pick one of your representatives. Write to them. Show up at their public meetings. Be the person in the back of the room that's always asking questions. Your representative works for you; don't be shy about asking them to explain their positions.

Run for office! In Massachusetts, the majority of state house and senate races are uncontested. Even if you don't win, you can still influence your representatives by running against them. And don't forget local government; cities and towns are our first line of defense against federal overreach.

We invite you to join us for a Digital Privacy 101 workshop tomorrow, Feb 5th from 1-3pm at the Somerville Public Library. Because you deserve privacy, and the government does not.
